

Military transition action timeline: 9 months

Describing myself and my goals

On applications and in interviews, you will need to be able to write or talk about your talents, skills, knowledge and transferable experience in civilian language. You'll also need to describe your education and career goals.

My talents	Civilian description
My skills	Civilian description
My knowledge	Civilian description
Transferable credits/experience	Civilian description
My Goals

Practice describing your skills and goals aloud with an individual from your network or a friend. Have someone review your goals statement and suggest improvements. Be sure to tailor your goal statement to the specific school and/or program to which you are applying.